Due to COVID-19, some panel physician offices may be closed. If you would like to schedule an immigration medical examination (IME), contact the panel physician's office to check that they're open and performing exams. If your application is in progress and you can't complete your IME due to COVID-19, please provide proof that a medical appointment is scheduled, including the name of the panel physician and the date and time of the appointment, or a letter of explanation of your efforts to have the IME done. You must see a doctor on the list of panel physicians. Your own doctor can't do the medical exam. The panel physician doesn't make the final decision about your medical exam. We make that decision. If there's a problem with your medical exam, we'll contact you in writing. Find a panel physician to perform your exam. When to get your medical exam You can either get your medical exam before or after you apply. Getting an exam before you submit your application You have the option of getting an exam before you apply. This is called an upfront medical exam. To get one, contact a panel physician directly. You can get one if you apply to: visit (including parent and grandparent super visa) work study Getting an exam after you submit your application We'll send you instructions on how to get your medical exam done. You must go for your medical exam within 30 days of receiving these instructions. If you don't follow these instructions, we may refuse your application. What to bring When you go to your appointment for the medical exam, you must bring: proper identification - at least 1 government-issued document with your photograph and signature, such as a passport or national identity card You may also use a Canadian driver's license, but only in Canada eye glasses or contact lenses, if you wear them any medical reports or test results that you have for any previous or existing medical conditions a list of your current medications the Medical Report form (IMM 1017E), if you don't have an up-front medical exam If the panel physician doesn't use eMedical, you must bring 4 recent photographs. Contact the panel physician before your appointment to find out. If you're referred for an x-ray or other tests, you may be asked to present your identification again when you go for those tests. What you need to pay for You must pay all fees related to the medical exam when you're there, including: the fee for the doctor or radiologist any special tests, investigations or treatment needed any specialists you need to see If we refuse your application after your medical exam, we won't refund those fees. What to expect during your exam Only an approved panel physician can do a complete medical exam for immigration reasons. When you arrive The panel physician or clinic staff will ask you for identification to confirm your identity. If you're referred for an x-ray or other tests, you may be asked to present your identification again when you go for those tests. Your picture will also be taken for our records. Medical history questionnaire The doctor will fill out a medical history questionnaire with you. This questionnaire is about any previous or existing medical conditions. They'll also ask you about any medications you're taking. Physical examination You'll undergo a physical exam. The doctor or medical clinic staff will: weigh you measure your height check your hearing and vision take your blood pressure feel your pulse listen to your heart and lungs feel your abdomen check how your limbs move look at your skin Other possible tests Depending on your age, you may be asked to do chest x-rays and laboratory tests at the clinic or a laboratory. This is routine screening and the doctor will discuss any abnormal results with you. You may be referred to a specialist for more testing, depending on the results of your medical exam. Complete this request as soon as possible to avoid delays in the processing of your medical examination. COVID-19 vaccination The panel physician may offer you a Government of Canada-accepted COVID-19 vaccine if it is available. Vaccination is completely voluntary and is not required as part of your exam. If you receive the COVID-19 vaccine during your exam, the panel physician will record it. If you've already been vaccinated for COVID-19, even if you have only received 1 dose, bring proof of your vaccination to your exam proof can be a paper copy or an electronic version the panel physician will record your proof of vaccination with your exam keep a copy of the vaccination record given to you by the panel physician Get more information on travel and COVID-19 vaccines: Right to have a chaperone You have the right to a chaperone at any time during the medical exam. You may: ask the medical clinic to have a staff member in the room stop the exam at any time to ask questions about what the doctor is doing stop the exam and ask for a chaperone, even if you refused one at first If you have questions or feel uncomfortable with a part of the exam, please ask the panel physician to stop and tell them about your concerns. After your exam is done Once the exam is done, the physician will send us the results. The doctor will give you a document confirming that you had a medical exam. Whether you took an upfront exam or not, keep a copy of the print out given to you by the panel physician as proof of your immigration medical exam. If you're unsatisfied with how the panel physician or panel radiologist did your medical exam, you may: complain using our Web form or contact the Client Support Centre We welcome all compliments, comments or observations through our feedback form. When to send your medical exam results Whether you took an upfront exam or not, the doctor will send us the results. Keep a copy of any document or print out given to you by the panel physician as proof of your immigration medical exam. If you took an upfront medical exam You must include a copy of the IMM 1017E Upfront Medical Report form that the doctor gave you after your exam. If the doctor works with eMedical, they'll give you an information sheet print out. You must attach that form to your paper application. If you apply online, you must upload that form before you can submit your application. If you took a medical exam after you submitted your application There is no further action required on your part. How long your medical results are good for Your medical exam results are good for 12 months only. If you're a student or worker, your letter of introduction shows the date your results expire (if you received it after November 30, 2021). If you don't come to Canada as a visitor, student or worker within that time, you may need to do another exam. If you want a copy of your medical exam, please ask the doctor when you're there. Medical reports and x-rays for the medical exam become our property. We cannot return them to you. Many countries require you to have a medical before they allow entry. We offer Visa Medicals in both our London and Manchester clinics. We will provide you with all of the information you require to help you complete your Visa application successfully. We often have short-notice appointments available and you can check for availability from this page using the 'Book An Appointment' tool at the top of the page. We offer a Visa Medical for a range of countries: If you need a medical for a country that is not listed here, please call us to check for availability. See our complete price list >> The cost of a Visa Medical depends on the country you're travelling to. If you have any additional requirements we can add these on for you once you have made an appointment and you can just pay the outstanding balance upon your visit to us. If you want an exact price before you attend, please call us. If an X-ray is required, we arrange for you to attend a local facility to have this done at the end of your appointment. Transport and associated costs We have provided information below which may be useful to you. If there's anything we've missed, or you have any further queries, please call us. How long will the medical take? The medical should take no more than an hour, but probably less. We aim to see you promptly so you're not waiting any longer than you need to be. Your appointment should start at the time you book it for. If booking for a Saturday, please be aware that the appointment may take slightly longer due to the availability of X-ray equipment. Where an X-ray is required this will be done through a third party provider at a different location, which we will arrange for you. Where the appointment is made for a late-afternoon, evening or weekends, the availability of the X-ray equipment may be limited or not available. Therefore, we recommend arranging for the X-ray to take place in advance of the medical (which will need arranging with the office in advance), or it can be carried out the next business day, subject to availability. Do I need to bring anything with me to the appointment? Please bring along your passport which will act as ID and arrive 15 minutes before the start of the appointment. If you have any medical conditions that may be relevant, please bring along information such as repeat prescriptions and specialist letters to help speed up the process. You do not need to fast in advance of a Visa Medical. As your appointment will be with a GP we can usually accommodate a range of tests and services whether they are in relation to your medical or not. Once you have made your appointment you can let us know and we can add these on to your booking. How do I arrange an appointment for a medical? The easiest way to arrange an appointment is by using our online booking facility at the top of this page - select 'Visa Medical' and choose the country you're traveling to. Or you can call us. Need more information? If you would like more information on these and other services provided by Doctorcall, you can contact us via any of the following methods: Telephone: 0844 257 0345 Email: bookings@doctorcall.co.uk
